POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
Tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Counselor Education and Supervision

The Department of Counseling and Human Development Services in the College of Education at The University of Georgia seeks highly qualified candidates to fill a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Counselor Education and Supervision. The primary assignment for this position is with our CACREP-accredited Counseling and Student Personnel Services Ph.D. program beginning August 2018. Salary is competitive and includes an excellent fringe benefit package.

The CACREP-accredited Counseling and Student Personnel Services Ph.D. program has a strong national reputation and is well-known and respected within the state of Georgia. This counseling doctoral program began in 2008 and was the first doctoral program to be offered at the UGA Gwinnett campus. The program is housed within a department ranked 3rd by U.S. News and National Report, and the program foci include training students in counselor education with a unique emphasis on multicultural and social justice training across P-16 settings. Students complete the 60-hour, part-time program over four years and are taught through a cohort model of instruction. The program faculty are nationally and internationally known, and the program attracts excellent applicants from across the disciplines of school counseling, mental health counseling, and student affairs.

Required
- Doctorate in Counselor Education from a CACREP-accredited program by the start date
- Record of active involvement in professional organizations such as ACA, ASCA, ACES
- Strong potential for or proven track record of developing a program of research
- Strong potential for or proven track record in attracting external funding
- Strong potential for or a proven track record of excellence in instruction and supervision
- Licensed or license-eligible as a professional counselor in order to assist with the clinical core

Desirable
- Experience working with on-line education (1 year)
- Experience in building relationships with practicum and internship sites (1 year)
- Experience as a school counselor or professional working in the schools, in a college setting, or with a mental health agency (1 year)

Responsibilities
- Teach counseling courses on the Athens and Gwinnett campuses.
- Conduct an active research program in counselor education that includes publishing scholarly work in high-impact venues and disseminating work to national and international audiences.
- Seek external funding for the research program.
- Advise doctoral students.
- Supervise clinical core courses for the program.
- Assist in administrative duties as required by the program.
- Service to the institution and profession is also expected.
Application Process

Applicants should submit all of the following:

- letter of application specifically responsive to the position’s responsibilities and required qualifications as described above,
- complete curriculum vitae,
- names, addresses, e-mail, and telephone numbers of four persons who could provide letters of reference. Transcripts and letters of reference will be required only from finalists.

All materials should be submitted electronically via:

http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/2680

Questions may be addressed to the search committee chair, Dr. Jolie Daigle at (jdaigle@uga.edu).

Applications received by October 15, 2017 are assured of full consideration. This position is contingent upon funding. The start date for this position is August 1, 2018.

The University of Georgia (www.uga.edu) is a land grant/sea grant institution. Its main campus is located in Athens, Georgia, 75 miles northeast of Atlanta. University of Georgia, a Research Extensive institution with over 34,000 students, located in Athens, Georgia, offers a wealth of social, cultural, and recreational opportunities. Athens is known for its music, art, and food as well as its accessibility to the Atlanta area (see www.visitathensga.com and www.georgia.gov).

An EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Institution

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status.