The class periods on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday are divided into 50 minute segments and those on Tuesdays and Thursdays are 75 minutes. Classes must be scheduled and taught during the designated class periods at the designated times. All exceptions must be approved by the department head, dean, and the vice president for instruction in advance of their listing in Athena. This policy is needed in order to make full use of classroom space and offer students the widest possible choice of classes and time periods.

Sources:
Office of the Vice President for Instruction, July 30, 2009